Robinson, Edwin Arlington COLLECTED POEMS The Three

The Edwin Arlington Robinson House in Gardiner, Maine Robinson's early struggles led many of his poems to have a dark pessimism and his stories to deal with "an American dream gone awry." His eldest brother, Dean Robinson, was a doctor and had become addicted to laudanum while medicating himself for neuralgia.

Edwin Arlington Robinson - Wikipedia

Edward Arlington Robinson was born on December 22, 1869 in Head Tide, Maine. Although he was one of the most prolific American poets of the early 20th century—and his Collected Poems (1921) won the first Pulitzer Prize ever awarded to poetry—he is remembered now for a few short poems. Robinson was devoted to his art and led a solitary, often make-shift existence; he published virtually ...

to Gardiner, Maine, in 1870, which renamed "Tilbury Town," became the backdrop for many of Robinson's poems.

About Edwin Arlington Robinson | Academy of American Poets (1869-1935) was a poet whose home town was Gardiner. He called himself at one point “a failure from the beginning.” Its no wonder, perhaps, that Edwin Arlington Robinson peopled his poetry with tragic failures.
