One with You (Crossfire #5) - Page 1/149. 1. New York was the city that never slept; it never even got sleepy. My condo on the Upper West Side had the level of soundproofing expected in a multimillion-dollar property, but still the sounds of the city filtered in—the rhythmic thumping of tires over the well-worn streets, the protests of weary air brakes, and the nonstop honking of taxi horns.

One with You (Crossfire #5) (16) “Eva.”. Stanton kissed Eva’s cheek, then turned to me. “Gideon.”. Accustomed to being addressed by my last name, I wasn’t braced for the hug that followed. “Congratulations,” he said, giving me a firm pat on the back before releasing me. Irritation simmered. Where was the natural evolution?

One with You (Crossfire #5) (55) Always, I replied. That was how Deanna found me, smiling at my phone. I looked up as she walked in, all amusement gone in a flash. She was dressed in a white pantsuit, with a chunky gold choker around her neck; it was clear she'd taken care with her appearance. Her dark hair hung in waves around her face and shoulders, and her makeup had been applied with drama in mind.
